Book Club Reads

We know that opening the door to a world of brilliant books is one of the most exciting things you can do as a teacher.

Here are some series which we have selected to help you get started. We think they would be a great choice for your weekly book club. This is a time to encourage your children to put in their reading miles.

Whether you are looking for books from our literary heritage, accessible page turners, or character series that children will love to share, we hope you'll find the perfect fit in these pages. Many of them are from reading experts, Oxford University Press, plus you'll find suggestions from other publishers here too.

We have provided some guidance about the length of the books and the suggested age group – but you know your children best, so do use your judgement to decide which will be best for your children based on their interests and reading stamina.

We aim for this to be an ever-evolving document, so do let us know your thoughts. We would love to hear about the books that you have been enjoying with your class!

Our book club list is part of our support for reading beyond Read Write Inc. Phonics.

Key to book lengths:

Short reads = 700-1300 words

Medium reads = 1100-6000 words

Longer reads = 6000 words+
